

Giving all Aussies the opportunity they deserve.

Did you know that every year 3.6 million Australians are refused a loan by their banks?¹

Creating opportunity

Refused a loan?

A whopping 18% of Aussies have been turned down for a loan by a financial institution.

Alternatives are here.

54% of people turned down didn't know there was an option for them.

Talk to Pepper Money.

Because we take a different approach, Pepper Money can conditionally approve over 90% of home loan applications.

We like to be real about the world we live in

People are different.

26% of Aussies that were turned down for a loan were refused because they work part-time or were self-employed.

Work is diverse.

We need self-employed solutions because we are an entrepreneurial nation. Last year there was a 2.4% increase in new trading businesses compared to 2015.

We get it.

We know that part-time and self-employed is a great choice and we want to help our 2.4 million self-employed Australians (Source: Civil Society).

People want their money with someone they can trust

People want to be understood.

42% of Aussies don't feel their financial institution understands them - their real needs and goals.

They want to feel safe.

1 in 10 are worried about having all of their information kept in one place.

They want good alternatives.

Not feeling safe with it all in one place maybe why 63% said they keep some information back from their main financial institution.
